

DAILY LOUISVILLE DEMOCRAT.

VOLUME XVI.

Daily Democrat.

Printed and Published by
HARNEY, HUGHES & CO.
Offices... East Side Third Street, between Market and Jefferson.

SUBSCRIPTION PRICE—$6—$8 if paid in advance.
DAILY DEMOCRAT—$6—$8 if paid in advance.
WEEKLY DEMOCRAT—$2—$3; ten copies, $1.50
each; twenty copies, $2.
DAILY DEMOCRAT—Single copies, or for any number under $5, $1; fifty and over to one address, 80 cents.
One square... $1.50; two squares, $2.
Each additional insertion... $1.
Daily Democrat... $1.
Each square, first insertion... $1.
Each additional insertion... $1.

JOE PRINTING

PLAIN AND FANCY COLORS,
At the lowest living prices, and on short notice. Call and see us, and we will teach you the terms of any of the following printing:
Cards, Circulars, Bills, Head-Steambolts,
Cards, Bills, Head-Steambolts,
Ticket-Receipts, Envelopes,
Posters, &c., &c.

DEMOCRATIC NOMINATIONS.

EASTERN DISTRICT.
For City Tax Collector—T. T. Summers.
For Banking Tax Collector—Gabe T. May.
For Street Inspector—John Tabott.

THIRD WARD.
For Alderman—Thos. L. Jefferson.
For Councilmen—C. W. Wetman and Jacob L. Emmons.
For School-Trusters—W. S. Worthington and Wm. Durson.
For Sheriff—Harry Kirby.
For Night Watchmen—Thos. Forman and James Kemp.

SUNDAY MORNING.—MARCH 18, 1860.

There will be a meeting of the Democratic of the First ward, on Tuesday evening, the 20th instant, at 8 o'clock, to nominate candidates for Councilmen, etc. A full attendance is desired.

It is not denied now, nor can it be, that the South supported General Cass when it was universally known that he held the opinions Douglass holds now. It is not denied that the same opinions, when he was preferred by nearly all the South as a candidate for the office of President. It is not denied that the most distinguished Southern men acquiesced in the so-called heresy, and defended it. It is not denied, in short, that the position of Douglass now, was the position of the Democratic party from 1848 to 1857.

We know there were a few men in Congress who held that this position of the party did not give the South the full measure of their rights. Senator Toombs declares they were few; that the overwhelming majority preferred non-intervention, and that he agreed to it. In this distinguished Senator told the plain history of our territorial policy in few words; the record shows it, and no one denies it.

But now new lights have dawned on the party. Some discover that they have all been heretics; that they inadvertently sacrificed constitutional rights; and that they did so for ten long years. They, indeed, proclaimed that they had found a safe and sound solution of the slavery question; claimed great credit for it; got the support of the country on the credit; and, after all that, they just now discover that they committed an egregious blunder; that they have been supporting a heresy for ten long years.

We suggest, and the people of the country will see the force of the suggestion, that a party thus confessedly guilty of so gross a blunder, not of a day or a year, but of ten years at least, should retire from the political stage, and leave to others the control of the Government. Perhaps they are as much mistaken now as they have been in the past; and, perhaps, it may take them ten years to find out the error. Is such a party fit to be trusted? We say it is not; and the rest of mankind will say so. If such be the Democratic party, it deserves to be beaten. A political party has no right to plead ignorance, nor will a party of the sort avail before an intelligent people.

As the question stood originally, the North invoked the power of the Federal Government to prohibit slavery in all the Territories; the North had the power to accomplish that result. The Northern Democracy agreed to arrest that policy, and hold the Federal Government to a strict neutrality on the question of slavery in the Territories. They subsequently agreed to repeal what had been done by Congress, for the purpose of making Territories free. But to this there was an alternative; some tribunal had to legislate respecting slavery; for slavery could not be kept out of a Territory or kept in, without law. It was first provided in the bills of 1850, that a Territorial Legislature should make no law with respect to African slavery; but this restriction was formally, after full debate, stricken out. This was a provision virtually that a Territorial Legislature might make laws respecting slavery. It was subsequently provided that the people of a Territory should be left "perfectly free" to regulate their own domestic affairs as they saw fit, including slavery among the domestic affairs.

The Northern Democracy cordially agreed to enforce this strict neutrality of the Federal Government; and the whole South agreed to it. It was at her solicitation, and for her benefit the policy was adopted.

And now, after two desperate political struggles over this policy, to maintain this strict neutrality, some Democrats in the South cover the great error—the fatal oversight in the whole matter.

It gives us pleasure, says the Indianapolis Sentinel, to state that there was a favorable time to bring up the question of slavery, when the change in the disease of Hon. John L. Robinson yesterday, although his condition was regarded by his physicians as very critical.

J. M. Ogden and Geo. M. Jackson have assumed the editorial charge of the Winchester, Ky., National Union. The Union is a capital paper.

Levi Smith accompanied John Morrissey from this city Monday night, and will go with him to England to witness the fight between Heenan and Sayers.—Troy Arena.

Levi Smith is one of the Wood Delegates from Rensselaer to the Charleston Convention. It would seem from the above that he has gone in another direction.

The Fernandian Florian contains the following: "Bishop F. H. Riddle, of the Florida Diocese, reached this place on the 26th instant. The reverend gentleman is in possession of his usual health and vigor. Archibishop Hughes, of New York, and Bishop Lynch, of Charleston, arrived here on the 3d instant, in the steamer Gordon. We understand that the former distinguished gentleman will pass some time here."

The Republicans claim Washington as one of them. Now would he do as a Republican candidate, if he were living? He kept his slaves as long as he lived, providing only for their freedom after he was gone. Would the Republicans vote for such a man for President?

Real estate to the amount of $16,179 was changed owners during the past week. Louisville property is looking up.

There were only fifteen couple who were licensed by the County Court Clerk during the past week to walk the long path together.

Private letters to Washington render it nearly certain that the majority of the California Convention, held on the 29th, were for Douglass for President. This will shake the dead timber.

An eminent observer says Michellet affirms that numerous microscopic beings, which in the shade, remain vegetative, assume a higher character in the sun, and become vertebrates—squares in the shade, and in the pure sunlight as editors, are asses.

The card of Mr. Durrett was not seen by the editors of the Democrat, before it appeared in print. We doubt the propriety of admitting such a personality in a newspaper, even as an advertisement. Besides, such statements are always liable to the usual misapprehensions when one version only is given. We publish a brief card of Mr. Durrett's, which appeared in the Courier yesterday.

The New Granadian bank Napoleon, lately arrived at Calais, eighty-eight days from the Sandwich Islands, where she had touched for supplies, on her way from China, with a cargo of Chinese slaves or Coolies. When she left China she had two hundred and forty aboard, of which one hundred and thirty-one died on the voyage, and twenty-eight were sent to the hospital on their arrival at Calais, leaving only eighty-four, who were mostly too weak for labor. Philanthropists, take notice.

GARIBOLDI.—Lovers of fine cigars will be glad to learn that Mr. D'Ursio has just received another importation of this delicious brand, finely flavored, and in all respects the best cigar available. Merchants, bar-keepers, and dealers in cigars, should by all means try this most excellent article. Mr. D'Ursio's stock of confectioneries, nuts, fruits, &c., is large and of a well selected stock. We advise country merchants to give him a call and examine his stock before purchasing elsewhere.

SHOCKING CREEPY.—An awful instance of ingratitude and cruelty has come to light in Cleveland, according to the Leader. A man named Willis Graves has made a deliberate attempt to starve his mother, aged 76, and in this inhuman business was aided by his wife. The neighbors, alarmed by the mysterious disappearance of the old lady, Mrs. Graves, in studied an investigation, and found her, a mere skeleton, stretched upon a miserable bed of straw, in a squalid chamber, nearly starved to death. She had lived on one meal per day, consisting of a crust of bread, for two weeks.

SERVICE OF MARYLANDERS IN CONGRESS. It was mentioned, a few days ago, that when the Hon. James A. Pearce shall have served out the term for which he has just been elected to the United States Senate, he will have occupied a seat in that body for the long period of twenty-four years. A correspondent of the Baltimore Sun calls attention to the fact that a sterling Democrat of nerve and talent is just the kind of man by whom we should be represented.

Our State has had several magnificent orators in the halls of our Legislature. The Democratic faith, as viewed in view of the death of Pearce, is that he will be a better orator than Pearce. As a man bearing the name of Douglass, he would have been far better for us, as we have seen him, than any one else.

Some of the conservative, moderate Republicans regret that James Harlan is returned to the Senate of the United States, from the fact that he is a man of great oratorical power, and can effect nothing for the benefit of the South, especially in the northern portion of the State, which is extremely anxious at this time to be heard in the halls of Congress. The United States Senate being a Democratic body, it would have been far better for us, as we have seen him, than any one else.

P. S.—There is a named Artemas Ward up North who is a good old soul, but not about so bizness. I've bin in sh. bizness, I used to sh. a Grizer Bar once, and when I was a young knight, I was a fresh, cool, dewy thing, sunny and shadowy, like a unbroken w. to a w. of the month, and changeable with the w. of the month. I was that gals with thick ankles, or with holes in their stockings, ought to wear straps,—more prettiness than power.

You can tellers tell a lady by her dress, but you can otherwise; if you meet a woman on muddy crozin, and you step out in the mud, and give her room to pass, if she looks like a w. to a w. of the month, then she is of a lord of several fat m. of kresham, that a pare of trouers can ever kresh.

Little gals should rule their h. w. like a master, when they are w. to a w. of the month, and as that life and soul were somewhat interposed throughout the gushing water. She was a fresh, cool, dewy thing, sunny and shadowy, like a unbroken w. to a w. of the month, and changeable with the w. of the month. I was that gals with thick ankles, or with holes in their stockings, ought to wear straps,—more prettiness than power.

On the h. w. I was sitting in front of the tavern when I heard thinking how I should satisfy my landlady's rapacious desire for filly kush. Then I told her, "I have a w. to a w. of the month, and as that life and soul were somewhat interposed throughout the gushing water. She was a fresh, cool, dewy thing, sunny and shadowy, like a unbroken w. to a w. of the month, and changeable with the w. of the month. I was that gals with thick ankles, or with holes in their stockings, ought to wear straps,—more prettiness than power.

On the h. w. I was sitting in front of the tavern when I heard thinking how I should satisfy my landlady's rapacious desire for filly kush. Then I told her, "I have a w. to a w. of the month, and as that life and soul were somewhat interposed throughout the gushing water. She was a fresh, cool, dewy thing, sunny and shadowy, like a unbroken w. to a w. of the month, and changeable with the w. of the month. I was that gals with thick ankles, or with holes in their stockings, ought to wear straps,—more prettiness than power.

On the h. w. I was sitting in front of the tavern when I heard thinking how I should satisfy my landlady's rapacious desire for filly kush. Then I told her, "I have a w. to a w. of the month, and as that life and soul were somewhat interposed throughout the gushing water. She was a fresh, cool, dewy thing, sunny and shadowy, like a unbroken w. to a w. of the month, and changeable with the w. of the month. I was that gals with thick ankles, or with holes in their stockings, ought to wear straps,—more prettiness than power.

On the h. w. I was sitting in front of the tavern when I heard thinking how I should satisfy my landlady's rapacious desire for filly kush. Then I told her, "I have a w. to a w. of the month, and as that life and soul were somewhat interposed throughout the gushing water. She was a fresh, cool, dewy thing, sunny and shadowy, like a unbroken w. to a w. of the month, and changeable with the w. of the month. I was that gals with thick ankles, or with holes in their stockings, ought to wear straps,—more prettiness than power.

On the h. w. I was sitting in front of the tavern when I heard thinking how I should satisfy my landlady's rapacious desire for filly kush. Then I told her, "I have a w. to a w. of the month, and as that life and soul were somewhat interposed throughout the gushing water. She was a fresh, cool, dewy thing, sunny and shadowy, like a unbroken w. to a w. of the month, and changeable with the w. of the month. I was that gals with thick ankles, or with holes in their stockings, ought to wear straps,—more prettiness than power.

On the h. w. I was sitting in front of the tavern when I heard thinking how I should satisfy my landlady's rapacious desire for filly kush. Then I told her, "I have a w. to a w. of the month, and as that life and soul were somewhat interposed throughout the gushing water. She was a fresh, cool, dewy thing, sunny and shadowy, like a unbroken w. to a w. of the month, and changeable with the w. of the month. I was that gals with thick ankles, or with holes in their stockings, ought to wear straps,—more prettiness than power.

On the h. w. I was sitting in front of the tavern when I heard thinking how I should satisfy my landlady's rapacious desire for filly kush. Then I told her, "I have a w. to a w. of the month, and as that life and soul were somewhat interposed throughout the gushing water. She was a fresh, cool, dewy thing, sunny and shadowy, like a unbroken w. to a w. of the month, and changeable with the w. of the month. I was that gals with thick ankles, or with holes in their stockings, ought to wear straps,—more prettiness than power.

On the h. w. I was sitting in front of the tavern when I heard thinking how I should satisfy my landlady's rapacious desire for filly kush. Then I told her, "I have a w. to a w. of the month, and as that life and soul were somewhat interposed throughout the gushing water. She was a fresh, cool, dewy thing, sunny and shadowy, like a unbroken w. to a w. of the month, and changeable with the w. of the month. I was that gals with thick ankles, or with holes in their stockings, ought to wear straps,—more prettiness than power.

On the h. w. I was sitting in front of the tavern when I heard thinking how I should satisfy my landlady's rapacious desire for filly kush. Then I told her, "I have a w. to a w. of the month, and as that life and soul were somewhat interposed throughout the gushing water. She was a fresh, cool, dewy thing, sunny and shadowy, like a unbroken w. to a w. of the month, and changeable with the w. of the month. I was that gals with thick ankles, or with holes in their stockings, ought to wear straps,—more prettiness than power.

On the h. w. I was sitting in front of the tavern when I heard thinking how I should satisfy my landlady's rapacious desire for filly kush. Then I told her, "I have a w. to a w. of the month, and as that life and soul were somewhat interposed throughout the gushing water. She was a fresh, cool, dewy thing, sunny and shadowy, like a unbroken w. to a w. of the month, and changeable with the w. of the month. I was that gals with thick ankles, or with holes in their stockings, ought to wear straps,—more prettiness than power.

On the h. w. I was sitting in front of the tavern when I heard thinking how I should satisfy my landlady's rapacious desire for filly kush. Then I told her, "I have a w. to a w. of the month, and as that life and soul were somewhat interposed throughout the gushing water. She was a fresh, cool, dewy thing, sunny and shadowy, like a unbroken w. to a w. of the month, and changeable with the w. of the month. I was that gals with thick ankles, or with holes in their stockings, ought to wear straps,—more prettiness than power.

On the h. w. I was sitting in front of the tavern when I heard thinking how I should satisfy my landlady's rapacious desire for filly kush. Then I told her, "I have a w. to a w. of the month, and as that life and soul were somewhat interposed throughout the gushing water. She was a fresh, cool, dewy thing, sunny and shadowy, like a unbroken w. to a w. of the month, and changeable with the w. of the month. I was that gals with thick ankles, or with holes in their stockings, ought to wear straps,—more prettiness than power.

On the h. w. I was sitting in front of the tavern when I heard thinking how I should satisfy my landlady's rapacious desire for filly kush. Then I told her, "I have a w. to a w. of the month, and as that life and soul were somewhat interposed throughout the gushing water. She was a fresh, cool, dewy thing, sunny and shadowy, like a unbroken w. to a w. of the month, and changeable with the w. of the month. I was that gals with thick ankles, or with holes in their stockings, ought to wear straps,—more prettiness than power.

On the h. w. I was sitting in front of the tavern when I heard thinking how I should satisfy my landlady's rapacious desire for filly kush. Then I told her, "I have a w. to a w. of the month, and as that life and soul were somewhat interposed throughout the gushing water. She was a fresh, cool, dewy thing, sunny and shadowy, like a unbroken w. to a w. of the month, and changeable with the w. of the month. I was that gals with thick ankles, or with holes in their stockings, ought to wear straps,—more prettiness than power.

On the h. w. I was sitting in front of the tavern when I heard thinking how I should satisfy my landlady's rapacious desire for filly kush. Then I told her, "I have a w. to a w. of the month, and as that life and soul were somewhat interposed throughout the gushing water. She was a fresh, cool, dewy thing, sunny and shadowy, like a unbroken w. to a w. of the month, and changeable with the w. of the month. I was that gals with thick ankles, or with holes in their stockings, ought to wear straps,—more prettiness than power.

On the h. w. I was sitting in front of the tavern when I heard thinking how I should satisfy my landlady's rapacious desire for filly kush. Then I told her, "I have a w. to a w. of the month, and as that life and soul were somewhat interposed throughout the gushing water. She was a fresh, cool, dewy thing, sunny and shadowy, like a unbroken w. to a w. of the month, and changeable with the w. of the month. I was that gals with thick ankles, or with holes in their stockings, ought to wear straps,—more prettiness than power.

On the h. w. I was sitting in front of the tavern when I heard thinking how I should satisfy my landlady's rapacious desire for filly kush. Then I told her, "I have a w. to a w. of the month, and as that life and soul were somewhat interposed throughout the gushing water. She was a fresh, cool, dewy thing, sunny and shadowy, like a unbroken w. to a w. of the month, and changeable with the w. of the month. I was that gals with thick ankles, or with holes in their stockings, ought to wear straps,—more prettiness than power.

On the h. w. I was sitting in front of the tavern when I heard thinking how I should satisfy my landlady's rapacious desire for filly kush. Then I told her, "I have a w. to a w. of the month, and as that life and soul were somewhat interposed throughout the gushing water. She was a fresh, cool, dewy thing, sunny and shadowy, like a unbroken w. to a w. of the month, and changeable with the w. of the month. I was that gals with thick ankles, or with holes in their stockings, ought to wear straps,—more prettiness than power.

On the h. w. I was sitting in front of the tavern when I heard thinking how I should satisfy my landlady's rapacious desire for filly kush. Then I told her, "I have a w. to a w. of the month, and as that life and soul were somewhat interposed throughout the gushing water. She was a fresh, cool, dewy thing, sunny and shadowy, like a unbroken w. to a w. of the month, and changeable with the w. of the month. I was that gals with thick ankles, or with holes in their stockings, ought to wear straps,—more prettiness than power.

On the h. w. I was sitting in front of the tavern when I heard thinking how I should satisfy my landlady's rapacious desire for filly kush. Then I told her, "I have a w. to a w. of the month, and as that life and soul were somewhat interposed throughout the gushing water. She was a fresh, cool, dewy thing, sunny and shadowy, like a unbroken w. to a w. of the month, and changeable with the w. of the month. I was that gals with thick ankles, or with holes in their stockings, ought to wear straps,—more prettiness than power.

On the h. w. I was sitting in front of the tavern when I heard thinking how I should satisfy my landlady's rapacious desire for filly kush. Then I told her, "I have a w. to a w. of the month, and as that life and soul were somewhat interposed throughout the gushing water. She was a fresh, cool, dewy thing, sunny and shadowy, like a unbroken w. to a w. of the month, and changeable with the w. of the month. I was that gals with thick ankles, or with holes in their stockings, ought to wear straps,—more prettiness than power.

On the h. w. I was sitting in front of the tavern when I heard thinking how I should satisfy my landlady's rapacious desire for filly kush. Then I told her, "I have a w. to a w. of the month, and as that life and soul were somewhat interposed throughout the gushing water. She was a fresh, cool, dewy thing, sunny and shadowy, like a unbroken w. to a w. of the month, and changeable with the w. of the month. I was that gals with thick ankles, or with holes in their stockings, ought to wear straps,—

Daily Democrat.

TELEGRAPHIC.

Washington.

WASHINGTON, March 16.—The tariff will be reported to the House to-morrow, and if it is not voted down, it will be sent to the Senate. If States are called, Mr. Morrill, who has it in charge, will offer it from Vermont. It committee will be called, Mr. Sherman will present it from the Ways and Means, under the new rule.

The miscellaneous appropriation bill has passed the Ways and Means Committee to-day, and will be presented to the House to-morrow.

The Naval and Postoffice bill are the only two remaining in the hands of the committee.

The list of cadets appointed at large by the President for 1859 are: First, Edward W. Whipple, Anderson, son of the late James W. Anderson, distinguished in the War of 1812; second, John W. M. Wadsworth, son of the late Capt. John W. M. Wadsworth, of the batallion of Cheshire, second, Burdett A. Burdett, son of the late Capt. B. A. Burdett, who died in service in 1815, and nephew of Maj. Burdett, of the Marine Corps, who was brevetted a gallant and勇敢的 officer at Chelmsford; third, Charles E. Moore, son of Col. Charles E. Moore, who has been in the army for nearly 50 years in the army, having served faithfully nine enlistments; fourth, Joseph S. Kirby, son of the late Major R. Kirby, who was brevetted for gallantry in the year of 1812, and died in service in 1812; fifth, Alexander Sanborn Clark, son of Major Clark, who entered the service in 1812, and died of yellow fever while in command of the Castle of San Juan De Ulloa; sixth, Ernest Cruz, Peñalver, son of the late Capt. John D. Lynn, Foote, who was a soldier in the army and died in the service in 1846 on the Texas frontier; seventh, Walter Abbott, son of the late Capt. Abbott, of the Navy, who was distinguished at the battle of Lake Champlain, and in 1814, was in command of a small vessel in the India squadron of disease contracted in service; eighth, Wm. Waller, grandson of President Tyler; ninth, Jos. W. Fisher, stepson of Maj. Fisher, who was twice brevetted for gallantry in Mexico, and was in his regiment at the storming of the Olorges, tenth, Jas. Wayne Cuylar, son of surgeon Jno. M. Cuylar, who has been twenty-five years in the army, and was distinguished in several Indian campaigns and in the Mexican war, where he was in Gen. Scott's line from the siege of Vera Cruz to the capture of the City of Mexico.

The household bill, which passed the House, was referred to the Senate to the Committee on Post-Office and Navigation, and the striking out of the exacting clause and inserting the bill drafted by Mr. Johnson, of Tenn. Mr. Johnson's bill excludes those who shall have the benefit of the public lands, sin- gle men under 21 years of age, who have no children, and foreigners who may declare their intention after the passage of the bill, and only allows those who receive alterations of lands under the bills to receive alterations of lands. The House bill includes the parties named above.

It is said the Republicans will accept Mr. Johnson's bill, if they cannot get the one which passed the House.

The President has recognized Archibald Connel as Consul of the U. S. at Boston.

The Consul says the misunderstanding existing with New Grenada may now be regarded as definitely and permanently settled.

In the Criminal Court Herman Jarowitz, alias Jager, tried on the charge of obtaining money by false pretences, was sentenced to 10 years in prison. He was a sergeant in the service of being a German Consul or Baron has been found guilty. He had extensively figured in cities north of Washington.

From St. Louis.

St. Louis, March 17.—The railroad bill passed the Senate yesterday. The bill, which was one of the most delightful of days, was ready for the sun to cheer and made glad the hearts of many lovers of sunshine and spring. The river continues to rise, with eight feet water in the canal to the marsh, and six feet on the pass to the falls. Eighteen feet six inches water at the pass of the Falls yesterday.

At Cincinnati the river was falling rapidly, having fallen 25 inches in the 24 hours ending 10 a.m. yesterday.

The Telegraph, Capt. Eldred, is the mailboat for Cincinnati to-day at noon.

The steamer arrived yesterday evening and departed to New Orleans.

The Woodford and Linn departed for New Orleans yesterday with moderate trips. They will not be out below.

The John Raine to-day, and will be out for New Orleans.

The interchange of Memphis and White River last evening with a good trip. She received about 300 tons of freight.

At Cincinnati the river is still rising rapidly, having fallen 25 inches in the 24 hours ending 10 a.m. yesterday.

The Telegraph, Capt. Eldred, is the mailboat for Cincinnati to-day at noon.

The steamer arrived yesterday evening and departed to New Orleans.

The Woodford and Linn departed for New Orleans yesterday with moderate trips. They will not be out below.

The John Raine to-day, and will be out for New Orleans.

The interchange of Memphis and White River last evening with a good trip. She received about 300 tons of freight.

At Cincinnati the river is still rising rapidly, having fallen 25 inches in the 24 hours ending 10 a.m. yesterday.

The Telegraph, Capt. Eldred, is the mailboat for Cincinnati to-day at noon.

The steamer arrived yesterday evening and departed to New Orleans.

The Woodford and Linn departed for New Orleans yesterday with moderate trips. They will not be out below.

The John Raine to-day, and will be out for New Orleans.

The interchange of Memphis and White River last evening with a good trip. She received about 300 tons of freight.

At Cincinnati the river is still rising rapidly, having fallen 25 inches in the 24 hours ending 10 a.m. yesterday.

The Telegraph, Capt. Eldred, is the mailboat for Cincinnati to-day at noon.

The steamer arrived yesterday evening and departed to New Orleans.

The Woodford and Linn departed for New Orleans yesterday with moderate trips. They will not be out below.

The John Raine to-day, and will be out for New Orleans.

The interchange of Memphis and White River last evening with a good trip. She received about 300 tons of freight.

At Cincinnati the river is still rising rapidly, having fallen 25 inches in the 24 hours ending 10 a.m. yesterday.

The Telegraph, Capt. Eldred, is the mailboat for Cincinnati to-day at noon.

The steamer arrived yesterday evening and departed to New Orleans.

The Woodford and Linn departed for New Orleans yesterday with moderate trips. They will not be out below.

The John Raine to-day, and will be out for New Orleans.

The interchange of Memphis and White River last evening with a good trip. She received about 300 tons of freight.

At Cincinnati the river is still rising rapidly, having fallen 25 inches in the 24 hours ending 10 a.m. yesterday.

The Telegraph, Capt. Eldred, is the mailboat for Cincinnati to-day at noon.

The steamer arrived yesterday evening and departed to New Orleans.

The Woodford and Linn departed for New Orleans yesterday with moderate trips. They will not be out below.

The John Raine to-day, and will be out for New Orleans.

The interchange of Memphis and White River last evening with a good trip. She received about 300 tons of freight.

At Cincinnati the river is still rising rapidly, having fallen 25 inches in the 24 hours ending 10 a.m. yesterday.

The Telegraph, Capt. Eldred, is the mailboat for Cincinnati to-day at noon.

The steamer arrived yesterday evening and departed to New Orleans.

The Woodford and Linn departed for New Orleans yesterday with moderate trips. They will not be out below.

The John Raine to-day, and will be out for New Orleans.

The interchange of Memphis and White River last evening with a good trip. She received about 300 tons of freight.

At Cincinnati the river is still rising rapidly, having fallen 25 inches in the 24 hours ending 10 a.m. yesterday.

The Telegraph, Capt. Eldred, is the mailboat for Cincinnati to-day at noon.

The steamer arrived yesterday evening and departed to New Orleans.

The Woodford and Linn departed for New Orleans yesterday with moderate trips. They will not be out below.

The John Raine to-day, and will be out for New Orleans.

The interchange of Memphis and White River last evening with a good trip. She received about 300 tons of freight.

At Cincinnati the river is still rising rapidly, having fallen 25 inches in the 24 hours ending 10 a.m. yesterday.

The Telegraph, Capt. Eldred, is the mailboat for Cincinnati to-day at noon.

The steamer arrived yesterday evening and departed to New Orleans.

The Woodford and Linn departed for New Orleans yesterday with moderate trips. They will not be out below.

The John Raine to-day, and will be out for New Orleans.

The interchange of Memphis and White River last evening with a good trip. She received about 300 tons of freight.

At Cincinnati the river is still rising rapidly, having fallen 25 inches in the 24 hours ending 10 a.m. yesterday.

The Telegraph, Capt. Eldred, is the mailboat for Cincinnati to-day at noon.

The steamer arrived yesterday evening and departed to New Orleans.

The Woodford and Linn departed for New Orleans yesterday with moderate trips. They will not be out below.

The John Raine to-day, and will be out for New Orleans.

The interchange of Memphis and White River last evening with a good trip. She received about 300 tons of freight.

At Cincinnati the river is still rising rapidly, having fallen 25 inches in the 24 hours ending 10 a.m. yesterday.

The Telegraph, Capt. Eldred, is the mailboat for Cincinnati to-day at noon.

The steamer arrived yesterday evening and departed to New Orleans.

The Woodford and Linn departed for New Orleans yesterday with moderate trips. They will not be out below.

The John Raine to-day, and will be out for New Orleans.

The interchange of Memphis and White River last evening with a good trip. She received about 300 tons of freight.

At Cincinnati the river is still rising rapidly, having fallen 25 inches in the 24 hours ending 10 a.m. yesterday.

The Telegraph, Capt. Eldred, is the mailboat for Cincinnati to-day at noon.

The steamer arrived yesterday evening and departed to New Orleans.

The Woodford and Linn departed for New Orleans yesterday with moderate trips. They will not be out below.

The John Raine to-day, and will be out for New Orleans.

The interchange of Memphis and White River last evening with a good trip. She received about 300 tons of freight.

At Cincinnati the river is still rising rapidly, having fallen 25 inches in the 24 hours ending 10 a.m. yesterday.

The Telegraph, Capt. Eldred, is the mailboat for Cincinnati to-day at noon.

The steamer arrived yesterday evening and departed to New Orleans.

The Woodford and Linn departed for New Orleans yesterday with moderate trips. They will not be out below.

The John Raine to-day, and will be out for New Orleans.

The interchange of Memphis and White River last evening with a good trip. She received about 300 tons of freight.

At Cincinnati the river is still rising rapidly, having fallen 25 inches in the 24 hours ending 10 a.m. yesterday.

The Telegraph, Capt. Eldred, is the mailboat for Cincinnati to-day at noon.

The steamer arrived yesterday evening and departed to New Orleans.

The Woodford and Linn departed for New Orleans yesterday with moderate trips. They will not be out below.

The John Raine to-day, and will be out for New Orleans.

The interchange of Memphis and White River last evening with a good trip. She received about 300 tons of freight.

At Cincinnati the river is still rising rapidly, having fallen 25 inches in the 24 hours ending 10 a.m. yesterday.

The Telegraph, Capt. Eldred, is the mailboat for Cincinnati to-day at noon.

The steamer arrived yesterday evening and departed to New Orleans.

The Woodford and Linn departed for New Orleans yesterday with moderate trips. They will not be out below.

The John Raine to-day, and will be out for New Orleans.

The interchange of Memphis and White River last evening with a good trip. She received about 300 tons of freight.

At Cincinnati the river is still rising rapidly, having fallen 25 inches in the 24 hours ending 10 a.m. yesterday.

The Telegraph, Capt. Eldred, is the mailboat for Cincinnati to-day at noon.

The steamer arrived yesterday evening and departed to New Orleans.

The Woodford and Linn departed for New Orleans yesterday with moderate trips. They will not be out below.

The John Raine to-day, and will be out for New Orleans.

The interchange of Memphis and White River last evening with a good trip. She received about 300 tons of freight.

At Cincinnati the river is still rising rapidly, having fallen 25 inches in the 24 hours ending 10 a.m. yesterday.

The Telegraph, Capt. Eldred, is the mailboat for Cincinnati to-day at noon.

The steamer arrived yesterday evening and departed to New Orleans.

The Woodford and Linn departed for New Orleans yesterday with moderate trips. They will not be out below.

The John Raine to-day, and will be out for New Orleans.

The interchange of Memphis and White River last evening with a good trip. She received about 300 tons of freight.

At Cincinnati the river is still rising rapidly, having fallen 25 inches in the 24 hours ending 10 a.m. yesterday.

The Telegraph, Capt. Eldred, is the mailboat for Cincinnati to-day at noon.

The steamer arrived yesterday evening and departed to New Orleans.

The Woodford and Linn departed for New Orleans yesterday with moderate trips. They will not be out below.

The John Raine to-day, and will be out for New Orleans.

The interchange of Memphis and White River last evening with a good trip. She received about 300 tons of freight.

At Cincinnati the river is still rising rapidly, having fallen 25 inches in the 24 hours ending 10 a.m. yesterday.

The Telegraph, Capt. Eldred, is the mailboat for Cincinnati to-day at noon.

The steamer arrived yesterday evening and departed to New Orleans.

The Woodford and Linn departed for New Orleans yesterday with moderate trips. They will not be out below.

The John Raine to-day, and will be out for New Orleans.

The interchange of Memphis and White River last evening with a good trip. She received about 300 tons of freight.

At Cincinnati the river is still rising rapidly, having fallen 25 inches in the 24 hours ending 10 a.m. yesterday.

The Telegraph, Capt. Eldred, is the mailboat for Cincinnati to-day at noon.

The steamer arrived yesterday evening and departed to New Orleans.

The Woodford and Linn departed for New Orleans yesterday with moderate trips. They will not be out below.

The John Raine to-day, and will be out for New Orleans.

